Major General Bates Sent to Colorado.

WILL INVESTIGATE TROUBLE

GOVERNOR

It is stated at the war department that Major General Bates is not going to Denver to relieve Brigadier General Baldwin of his command of the department of the Colorado. The purpose of his visit is to look over the field, to advise Governor Peabody it he cares to have such advice, and finally to report to the department here and through it to the president as to the actual need that may exist for the use of United States troops in connection with the Colorado strikes.

Owing to his experience in the Philippines, General Bates is regarded as an expert in the settlement of yexaflous questions growing out of conflicting civil and military authority. General Bates, as a major general, if there was any occasion for such a thing could himself direct operations within the department of the Colorado, he having superior rank to Brigadier General Baldwin; but it is stated position. thing could himself direct operations within the department of the Colorado, he having superior rank to Brigadier General Baldwin; but it is stated positively that he has no instructions to this effect, and the department officials are quite sure that he will not assume such powers without first applying to the war department for its sanction. It is helieved that if he sees occasion to change in any respect the policy General Baldwin is pursuing, a mere hint to that officer from General Bates will be regarded as sufficient to cause a change.

The result tonight is that the company has presented an answer to the last proposition of the men, which makes some concessions in the matter of routing cars, but does not grant anywhere near what the men have been demanding.

Strikers Angry.

The last conference of the day ter-The last conference of the day terminated at 3 o'clock and the union officials left the room with displeasure on their faces and evidently not in the best of humor. They went at once to the office of Attorney Prentiss, one of their advisers, to formulate a reply to the answer of the company. This will be submitted tomorrow and the company will make another reply.

The conference this afternoon was at times somewhat heated and the voices could be heard in the outer hall as they argued the proposition involved. When Nothing Accomplished.

Attorney Prentiss said after he had reached his office and was about to lock himself up with the officials of the union: "There is no immediate chance of a settlement. I hope that we can reach an agreement, but nothing has been accomplished yet."

The present hitch in negotiations is understood to be over the routing of the cars, the men having waived their demand for the exclusive employment of union men and their right to pass with authority upon the discharge of employees. On the question of wages, there has never been any trouble, both sides having been willing from the first to submit that question to arbitration.

Major General S. S. Sumner. Nearly all the officers in the department of Missouri, including Major Smith Van Leer, chief engineer of the department of Fort Leavenworth, were present. No immediate change in the personnel of the staff will occur, and Major E. J. McClernand will remain as chief of staff.

Major General Bates, who today transferred to Major General Sumner the command of the department of Missouri, received orders to report for duty at Denver. Colo. The order came from the war department at Washington, but General Bates refused to discuss its contents.
